RE: 2021 Award Nominations

Each year at the South Carolina Emergency Care Symposia Awards Ceremony, special recognition is given to members of the EMS Community. Awards are presented to those EMS professionals who have distinguished themselves during the previous year (2021).

Take a moment to review the attached list of awards and the criteria for each. There are so many deserving individuals and services in South Carolina, I am sure you will know someone deserving of at least one award.

The rules are simple and the directions are easy to follow. Acknowledge someone you know that went the extra mile, served beyond the call of duty, or simply sets an example of what EMS is all about.

The deadline for Nominations is Friday, January 31, 2022.

Good luck and we'll see you in Myrtle Beach March 9-13!

CURTIS P. ARTZ AWARD (The Curtis P. Artz Memorial Award is presented only if there is a nominee who meets the specific criteria listed)

Criteria:

1. Does the situation or incident being cited deal with a person's or group of peoples' primary performance as an emergency medical care professional?
2. Do the actions of the nominee(s) exceed the normal expectations of others holding equivalent certifications and faced with a similar situation?
3. Did the nominee(s) subject himself/herself to unusual risks in an effort to render urgently needed medical care to the patient(s)?
4. Was the risk, if any, necessary in terms of the severity of the situation? In other words, did the nominee(s) assess the overall situation and then knowingly accept the risk for the sake of caring for the patient?
5. Is the supporting documentation adequate to confirm and substantiate the reason for nomination?

Eligibility: Any prehospital provider, EMT (all levels), dispatcher, first responder, registered nurses or physician in a prehospital setting.

Nominated By: Anyone

Who Selects Recipient: Lowcountry EMS Board

Award Given: Plaque

When Given: Annual Awards Ceremony

Note: The award is not given based on the degree of blind risk taken by someone, but on a well thought out response to a medical emergency in the field where the situation at hand required extraordinary performance in order to save life, limb and/or eyesight and where an option not to act could have been exercised.

Curtis P. Artz, M.D., Memorial Award Award Criteria

The Curtis P. Artz Award was established as a memorial to the outstanding role Dr. Artz played in the establishment of emergency medical services in South Carolina. Dr. Artz, who died in 1977, was nationally recognized for his role in establishing regional burn centers and trauma centers and was acclaimed as one of the world's leading authorities in that field. Dr. Artz was also instrumental in the establishment of the regional EMS system in the Lowcountry and served as Chairman of the Board of Directors for the Lowcountry Regional EMS Council and as Chairman of the Department of Surgery at the Medical University of South Carolina.

The award was presented for the first time in 1978 for the purpose of recognizing outstanding performance, above and beyond the call of duty, in the field of emergency medicine. Each year, the Board of Directors of the Lowcountry Regional EMS Council presents the Curtis P. Artz Memorial Award to an individual, or group of individuals, who perform above and beyond the level normally expected of a similarly trained individual in rendering direct emergency medical care to a patient. While many persons are deeply involved in the various areas of emergency medicine, it is those persons who take the patient care to the field that make EMS the lifesaving service that it is. For this reason, it is the EMS personnel who work the "streets" whom we wish to recognize and honor with this award.

Nominations for this award are evaluated based on the following criteria:

1. Does the situation or incident being cited deal with a person's or group of peoples' primary performance as an emergency medical care professional?
2. Do the actions of the nominee(s) exceed the normal expectations of others holding equivalent certifications and faced with a similar situation?
3. Did the nominee(s) subject himself/herself to unusual risks in an effort to render urgently needed medical care to the patient(s)?
4. Was the risk, if any, necessary in terms of the severity of the situation? In other words, did the nominee(s) assess the overall situation and then knowingly accept the risk for the sake of caring for the patient?
5. Is the supporting documentation adequate to confirm and substantiate the reason for nomination?

Note: The award is not given based on the degree of blind risk taken by someone, but on a well thought out response to a medical emergency in the field where the situation at hand required extraordinary performance in order to save life, limb and/or eyesight and where an option not to act could have been exercised.

The Curtis P. Artz Memorial Award is presented only if there is a nominee who meets the specific criteria listed above.

H. Dean Douglas South Carolina EMS Advocate of the Year

Criteria:

1. Significant efforts to educate and build foundational relationships with elected government leaders in South Carolina.
2. Serving and engaging South Carolina EMS professionals through advocacy activities.
3. Impacting South Carolina professionals in which ones abilities to grow personally and professionally are fostered through advocacy.
4. Actively pursuing quality patient care and outcomes via advocacy efforts.
5. Is the supporting documentation adequate to confirm and substantiate the reason for nomination?

Eligibility: Any prehospital provider, EMT (all levels), Telecommunicator, EMR, Registered Nurse or Physician in a prehospital setting.

Nominated By: Anyone

Who Selects Recipient: S.C. EMS Association

Award Given: Plaque on behalf of the S.C. EMS Association

When Given: Annual Awards Ceremony

The H. Dean Douglas South Carolina EMS Advocate of the Year Award is presented only if there is a nominee who meets the specific criteria listed above.

EMS AWARDS PROGRAM RULES AND CRITERIA

GENERAL GUIDANCE

Persons preparing nominations are advised that, although not strictly required, supporting documentation and a complete application are virtual requirements for a successful nomination. Submitting only the face sheet, or a single page document in support of a nomination, rarely results in a favorable outcome. Applicants are encouraged to be creative in using the space allowed, and to begin early to collect supporting documents, press clippings, etc.

A suggestion for applicants is to try to present the candidate(s) strengths according to the four scoring criteria in the first three to six pages, and to then document this information with photographs, copies of the proclamations and certificates, press clippings, and letters of support in the remaining pages. By creatively positioning several photos or clippings, the applicant can save space and maximize the information presented to the reader.

Applicants are cautioned that photos which are illegible or indecipherable by the readers may be worse than no copy at all.

The readers may not know the candidate, therefore, be as all-inclusive as possible by concisely presenting the important information that will lead to a high score.

All information should support a candidate for deeds or valor that took place during 2020.

AWARDS CRITERIA

PAGE LIMIT: Nominations shall not exceed 10 pages, plus the Nomination Face Sheet.

FORMAT: All nominations of individuals should include a resume not to exceed two pages in length. The remaining information should address the criteria as indicated for the award.

DEADLINE: All nominations must be received no later than January 31, 2022 by email to: mself@pdrems.com

 All award nominations that are not submitted in the above format, will be returned to the sender.

JUDGING: Awards which are decided by the Awards Committee will be objectively scored according to criteria. A panel of no less than three members will make all decisions, and the decision of the panel is final. All nominations are scored on a zero to ten-point range with criteria categories. Applicants are urged to address all categories to receive the maximum possible point score.

The four categories are:

Individual

1. What has the individual accomplished to improve EMS?
2. Community involvement of the individual.
3. Credentials or awards.
4. Letters of recommendation.

Service

1. Improvement of service over the last year.
2. Community involvement of the service.
3. Credentials or awards of service.
4. Letters of recommendations.

A perfect nomination would receive a score of 40 points from each reader.

LIMITS ON NOMINATIONS AND AWARDS:

An individual can only be considered for one award annually among those decided by the Awards Committee. In the event that a person is nominated for more than one award, that person's nomination will be assigned to one award category only. Such assignment is not an implied or expressed decision to present the award to the person.

RESUBMISSIONS: Unsuccessful nominations previously submitted must be completely updated before being re-submitted. Care must also be taken to assure that letters of support refer to the award for which the person is being nominated. A nomination for the EMT of the Year Award, for example, must not contain year-old letters taken from a nomination for another award.
